HISTORY.

This Church of Christ was established by public worship, on Sunday, the seventh day of October, 1714. The service was conducted in the dwelling-house of Peter Adams by the Rev. David Deming, who, the next year, was ordained and installed its first pastor.

The records of the church, during the first pastorate, have been lost; hence the names of the early members are to some extent unknown. But from the church records of Medfield, to which town this locality belonged for seventy years prior to the incorporation of Medway, have been gathered the names of those of that church who were then resident within the limits of the new town, and must have constituted the larger part of the members of this church at its organization.

From the commencement of the second pastorate, in 1724, the records are well preserved, and contain the doings of the church, with lists of the names of the members and of the baptized children.

There have been settled nine pastors, whose active ministrations cover a period of one hundred and sixty-five of the one hundred and seventy-five years since the church was established. The Rev. Nathan Bucknam was pastor for seventy-one years, being in active service sixty-two years.

Twenty-three persons have served as deacons, three of whom are now in office, and the others have died.

The whole number of admissions, so far as recorded, is eight hundred and twenty-six. The present membership is one hundred and twenty-six: thirty-eight males and eighty-eight females. There are thirty-one non-resident members, and fifteen who are retired by reason of age and infirmities, and very rarely can attend public worship. This leaves a present active membership of eighty persons, of whom twenty-two are males and fifty-eight females.

This church has sustained a Sunday school for over seventy years and a branch Sunday school for more than thirty years. The number connected with these schools, at this date, is one hundred and seventy. The main school has one hundred and twenty-six, and the branch school has forty-four, including teachers and scholars.

There have been four meeting-houses erected and occupied for public worship. The first was built in 1715, and stood for thirty-four years, when it was destroyed by fire. The second was occupied for sixty-seven years, the third for thirty-four years, and the present house has been in use for forty years.

Several seasons of religious revival have occurred. The most remarkable was in 1837, when at one communion service forty-six persons were received to the church. For more than a hundred years, candidates were received on giving assent publicly to the covenant, but since 1836 a confession of faith and a revised form of the ancient covenant have been in use.

The one hundred and sixty-second anniversary of the church was observed Oct. 7, 1876, the year of our national centennial, by special services. Three ex-pastors were present, Revs. Sewall Harding, John O. Means, D. D., and Jacob Roberts. The historical discourse on that occasion, preached by the pastor, was published. The one hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary was observed by appropriate public service on Sunday, Oct. 6, and a social reunion of members, past and present, on Monday, Oct 7, 1889, with invited guests.

At a church meeting, held Aug. 3, 1889, the pastor and deacons were appointed a committee to revise the church manual. They completed their work, and the present manual was approved by the church, June 7, 1890, and ordered to be printed.

Parsonage Erected in 1872.

APPENDIX.

ANCIENT CHURCH COVENANT.

MEDFIELD, MASS.

"You do now present yourself before the Lord and his people, professing a firm and serious belief of the Scriptures as the word of God, and making a steady profession of the Christian religion as therein contained.

"You do give up yourself to God in an everlasting covenant through Jesus Christ, solemnly promising, by the assistance of divine grace, that you will renounce the sins and vanities of the present evil world; that you will, as God shall enable you, repent of all your past sins, and live for time to come in conformity to the rules of our holy religion.

"You do give yourself up to the Lord Jehovah, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, as your best good and last end.

"You give yourself up to the Lord Jesus Christ as your Prophet, Priest, and King, and to the Holy Ghost as your Sanctifier, Guide, and Comforter."

Admission by the Half-Way Covenant.

"You submit yourself to the laws of Christ's kingdom as they are administered among this people, giving up yourself to the watch and discipline of this Church. You promise that you will diligently labor after those higher attainments in Christian grace and knowledge, whereby you may in some measure be qualified for and in due time be encouraged to come up to the table of the Lord."

Baptism.

"Now, then, in testimony of your setting your seal to this holy Covenant, and consenting to the holy duties of it, and, further, to assure you the actual benefits and privileges of this Covenant, if you be sincere in this dedication and surrender of yourself in the exercise of true repentance and faith unfeigned, I shall baptize you, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

After Baptism.

"You have now given up your name to God; and, in a very solemn manner, subscribed his holy Covenant, and you are to remember that henceforward the eyes of the Lord, holy and jealous, are upon you to observe whether you keep this Covenant and perform the vows of the Lord which are upon you. If you deal falsely, and break his Covenant by living in sin and neglect of duty, what you have now done will be a witness against you. But if you do faithfully keep this your Covenant, departing from the ways of sin, and living in the exercise of holiness, you may hope for the good things of this life with the tokens of covenant love, and in the world to come be brought to possess an inheritance incorruptible, undefiled, and which cannot fade away.

"And that you may be enabled to keep this your Covenant, and perform the vows of the Lord which are upon you, we shall now commend you to the grace of God."

Admission to Full Communion.

"You do also give yourself up to this Church in the Lord, and according to the will of God you promise and covenant through grace to cleave to us and walk together with us as a member of the same mystical body and as an instituted Church of Christ: and so to walk together with us in love and holy watchfulness, with a sincere subjection of your soul to the power of the Lord Jesus Christ in the regular administration of all his holy ordinances and in the full exercise of his holy rules and government in this Church in a way of order, peace, and union.

"Thus you covenant?"

Restipulation.

"We do then acknowledge you as a member of the same body with ourselves. And in the name of this Church, I promise that by the assistance of the Lord we will watch towards you in love and holy watchfulness, to the mutual building up of one another in the faith and fellowship of the Gospel, earnestly praying that the Lord God will delight to dwell among us, that his glorious kingdom may be advanced in us and by us, and that he would build us up in holiness and comfort through faith unto everlasting life. Amen."

"Medfield, 13*th Feb.*, 1825. — The Covenant above written does not appear on any book of record. The subscriber took it from the blank leaves of an old Psalm Book. It is the one always used by my predecessor, Rev. Dr. T. Prentiss. It is supposed to be the only one ever used in the church. . . .

(Signed) DANIEL C. SANDERS."

FIRST COVENANT OF THE CHURCH.

1714–1837.

The Covenant to be propounded to those that are admitted to the ordinance of the Lord's Supper: —

You are now in full communion with the Church of Christ, purchased with the price of his blood, and you do now seriously, freely, and forever, in the presence of God, by whom you expect shortly to be judged, and by whom you hope to be acquitted, and in the presence of an innumerable company of elect angels, and in presence of this assembly, give up yourself to God the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, avouching the Lord Jehovah to be your God; you give up yourself to the Lord Jesus Christ as unto your Prophet, Priest, and King forever, promising by the assistance of the Spirit of Grace to walk in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless, answerable to the high and holy vocation wherewith you are called. You give up yourself and posterity to this Church, submitting to the rule and discipline of it, putting yourself under the watch and care of it, promising to embrace its counsels and reproofs with humility and thankfulness (vide Half-Way Covenant), and duly to attend the ordinances of Christ in this Church, as long as your opportunity thereby to be edified in your holy faith shall be continued to you.

This you promise?

We, then, the Church of Christ in this place, do joyfully and charitably receive you into our sacred fellowship and communion as one whom we hope and trust the Lord hath received; and we promise to admit you to all the ordinances of the Gospel in fellowship with ourselves, and to watch over you with a spirit of meekness, love, and tenderness, as your holy relation unto us calls for; and to continue our ardent prayers to the God of all grace for you, that you may have grace to keep the Covenant that you have now, in so solemn a manner, before angels and us, entered into, that the sure mercies of the everlasting Covenant may be your portion. Amen.

Half-Way Covenant.

To them that come under the bonds of the Covenant, immediately after the word "thankfulness" in the above Covenant, add: —

You promise to attend the worship of God with us so long as Divine Providence shall give opportunity, and take all possible care to prepare yourself for the holy sacrament of the Lord's Supper; and when you have reason to think, by the blessing of God upon your diligent endeavors, you are in some good measure qualified therefor, you will renew covenant with God and wait upon Him in that holy institution, and walk as becomes a Christian in all holy conversation and godliness.

This is what you consent to and promise? Which being done, it follows: —

We, the Church of Christ in this place, acknowledge your covenant relations, and do now take you under our Christian watch and care, promising to admit you to all those privileges that this your sacred relation doth or may entitle you unto, and to watch over you with a spirit of meekness, love, and tenderness, as the Gospel enjoins us, and to continue our ardent prayers to the God of all grace for you that you may have grace to keep this Covenant that you have in so solemn a manner entered into; that the sure mercies of the everlasting Covenant may be your portion. Amen.

FIRST CONFESSION OF FAITH.

1837–1890.

Article I. — We believe there is only one true God, the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost; a Being of infinite wisdom, power, justice, goodness, and truth; and the only proper object of religious worship.

Article II. — That God is the Creator and sovereign Disposer of all creatures and events.

Article III. — That the Holy Scriptures were given by inspiration of God; and are the only perfect rule of religious faith and practice.

Article IV. — That our first parents were created in the image of God, perfectly holy and happy, and that by transgressing the divine command, they fell into a state of sin and misery.

Article V. — That in consequence of their apostasy, all men are by nature wholly destitute of true holiness, enemies to God, and under the curse of the Divine law.

Article VI. — That the Lord Jesus Christ, being God and man, mysteriously united in one person, has, by his sufferings and death, made an atonement for sin, which is sufficient for the whole world, and thus rendered it consistent with the holy character of God to pardon and save every penitent believer.

Article VII. — That none do truly repent of sin and believe the Gospel, but those who are renewed in heart by the special influences of the Holy Spirit, according to the eternal purposes of God; and that all such will be kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation.

Article VIII. — That it is the duty and privilege of parents and heads of families, who are visibly in covenant with God, to bring their children, and all under their parental care, to the ordinance of Christian baptism, and to train them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

Article IX. — That at the end of time there will be a resurrection of the dead, and a general judgment, when the righteous will be received to everlasting happiness, and the wicked doomed to endless misery.

Thus you believe and profess?

[THE RITE OF BAPTISM ADMINISTERED.]

SECOND COVENANT.

1837–1890.

You do now, in the presence of God, angels, and men, avouch the great Jehovah, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, to be your God — the object of your supreme affections, and your chosen portion forever. You cordially acknowledge and receive the Lord Jesus Christ, in his mediatorial offices of Prophet, Priest, and King, as your only Saviour and final Judge, and the Holy Spirit as your Sanctifier, Guide, and Comforter. You humbly and cheerfully devote yourselves to God, consecrating your all to his service and glory. You promise to take the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament as the guide of your faith and practice, and by God's grace assisting you, to walk in all the ordinances of his house blameless, and in obedience to all his holy commands, as they are, or shall be, from time to time made known to you. You do also give up yourselves and children to this Church of Christ, voluntarily submitting to its rule and discipline — putting yourselves under its watch and care — submitting with humility and thankfulness to its rebukes and reproofs — and solemnly covenanting to strive, as much as in you lies, to promote its peace, edification, and purity, and to walk with its members in Christian love and faithfulness.

Thus purposing, you do now cordially unite with this Church, promising, by the aids of God's grace, henceforth to deny all ungodliness and every worldly lust, and to live soberly, righteously, and godly in the world.

Thus you engage and promise?

We, then, of this Church, do joyfully and charitably receive you into our sacred communion and fellowship; and we severally promise, with the aid of divine grace, to discharge all duties towards you in Christian love and watchfulness, to the mutual building up of one another in the faith and fellowship of the Lord Jesus Christ and His Gospel.

Now, beloved, you have sworn unto the Lord, and you cannot go back. Wherever you go, these vows will rest upon you. They will follow you through life, and to the bar of God; and in whatever world you may be fixed, will be upon you to eternity. You can never be again as you have been. Voluntarily and unalterably you have committed yourselves, and henceforth you must be the servants of the Lord.

May the Lord guide and preserve you till death, and at last receive both you and us to that blessed world where our love and joy shall be perfect forever. Amen.
